

COMP3230 : Introduction to Spatial Analysis

Introduction to Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and the utilization of geospatial data for observation of data in a means that is not possible in written or tabular format. Spatial analysis allows questions to be considered where a primary consideration is the relationship between where different entities are located. Fee: Additional fee required.

Credits 3

Fees

$150