

COMP3330 : Database Design and Programming

An introduction to application program development in a database environment with an emphasis on data structures, file organization, hierarchical network and relational data models and storage devices. Fee: Additional fee required.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

COMP2750, MATH2310

Corequisites

COMP3330L

Semester Offered

Alternate years.

Fees

$150