

ECON2420 : Principles of Macroeconomics

A study and application of macroeconomic analysis; includes gross national product, national income, consumption, investment, inflation, economic growth and development, and international applications.

Credits 3