

ENGL3210 : Major Authors in American Literature

A study of selected works of a major American author or authors. Course topics may vary by semester. Some examples of topics are: variations on the American Dream, doctors in literature, literature of the sea, small-town America, and American travel literature. May be repeated for credit.

Credits 3

Semester Offered

Alternate years.