

PHYS1010 : Introduction to Physical Science

An interdisciplinary physical science course that covers the main educational topics in chemistry, physics, and earth science. This course is designed for elementary education majors but may be taken by any student to fulfill a natural science elective general education requirement. No prior knowledge of science is assumed.

Credits 3

Corequisite Courses

PHYS1010L