

BSNS2170 : Computer Applications in Business

Introduction to computers as a tool for business. Includes fundamental concepts of information technology and the use of business application software such as word processing, spreadsheets, database, graphics, electronic communications, and the web.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

Computer Proficiency, or instructor's approval.